Simply Luxurious

“We tune in so closely from the beginning, so clients feel at ease through the process. They know we’re there to reflect them first,” says Talie. “It’s never about us. It’s always about finding our client’s WHY and Sometimes, the simple way is the best way. At least, that’s what Interior Designer Talie Jane will tell you.

She’s one of Lake Tahoe’s most talked about designers and has earned awards like “Best Remodel of the Year” by Tahoe Quarterly Magazine Mountain Home Awards. And as a five-time winner of “Best of Houzz,” it’s easy to see why she’s become one of Lake Tahoe’s go-to sources for all things design. But in spite of all the fanfare, Talie Jane says that doing design well really boils down to the simple acts of listening first and digging deep to uncover each client’s vision, preferences, and lifestyle.

then putting all the pieces together to make their vision a reality.”

For the last decade, Talie Jane and her team have been partnering with clients on projects ranging from consulting and project management to full-service design.

“Our work is focused on impacting people’s lives by changing the environments they live in,” says Talie. “We’re process-oriented, and this helps to create a clear, simple path to the warm, comfortable, functional, and luxurious spaces that clients want to come home to every single day.”
